LOTTERY HOLDS COUNTY IN GRIP

Nothing Since War Was Declared
Has Attracted so Much Attention as Drawing For Draft

CROWDS AT BULLETIN BOARDS

Of First One Hundred Names Drawn
8 Applied Here—Laverne H.
Lower of Walker First

The big human lottery conducted in Washington today to determine the order in which the young men of the country are to appear before the exemption boards, held Rush county and Rushville in its grip as nothing else has since war was declared.

Business was almost at a stand still, while men crowded around the bulletin boards and besieged the newspaper offices for information concerning the big drawing. The drawing was expected to be completed tonight some time and by that time every one of the 1,466 names on Rush county's registration roll will have been drawn.

The drawing, as conducted, established the order in which the men are to report. Of the first one hundred numbers drawn, eight applied to Rush county. The first number drawn was 258. This is the red ink serial number of Laverne H. Lower of Walker township. In every registration district in the United States men with this number are called to report first, along with young Lower.

Mr. Lower is a son of Mrs. May Lower and probably will have a claim for exemption as supporting his widowed mother, although since they own a farm, the claim might not be considered, as the farm is the real support and not the son. The local board faces a hard task as is seen from the very first number drawn.

The second number drawn that applied to Rush county was No. 458. This, however, was the sixth number drawn, but the intervening numbers did not apply to this county. These numbers were 2,522, 4,532 and 10,218. The second man that will be ordered to report from this county therefore is Claude Jenes of Center township.

The first Rushville man to be drawn was James J. Jordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jordon of South Pearl street. His number is 854. He is the fourth man from this county to report and his was the fourteenth number drawn out at Washington. Young Jordon is single, a good specimen of manhood and when informed today that he had been drawn did not take the matter very seriously.

Out of the first eight drawn from this county, one other Rushville man was named. This was Harry E. Clark, who was registered from precinct No. 6, Rushville township and had the serial number of 783. He was the seventh man drawn whose number applied to this county.

Clarence Lines of Anderson township, was the fifth man drawn from Rush county. Lines is a son of Will Lines and is said to have no dependents. His serial number was 1,095 and was the thirty-fifth number drawn in Washington.

One other Anderson township young man's name appeared in the early numbers. George M. Ruble, No. 1,117 will be the eighth man in this county ordered to report. His number was pulled forty-ninth at the drawing. He is the son of George Ruble, Sr., and is single, but is a member of Company B.

DRAWING MAY LAST 'TIL 3 IN MORNING

On Basis of Drawing 2,000th. Number, Lottery Likely to Continue For Many Hours

ANNOUNCES GETTING HOARSE

Starting at 9:30 a. m. Today, Blindfolded Men Draw Fated Capsules With Draft Numbers

By WEBB MILLER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Room 226 Senate Office Bld., Washington, July 20.—America today drafted her youths for war against kaiserism. Starting at 9:30 o'clock this morning, blindfolded men drew the fated capsules bearing the draft numbers. Throughout the country each notified a youth of the order in which Uncle Sam wants him to respond to the call to arms.

On the basis of the drawing of the 2,000th number this afternoon, the lottery will last until three a. m. Saturday. The announcers are slowing down, getting hoarse and change shifts frequently.

Ten thousand five hundred numbers will be drawn and it will be night before the last pellet has been called.

In case the number drawn is higher than contained in a district the number is disregarded in that district.

The first 1,500 numbers drawn, officials said, ought to indicate a good proportion in the order in which the draftedmen will be called up for examination in the smaller districts.

An eleventh hour change in the method of the drawing made it impossible to determine the men to be drafted for military service within an hour. The intricate method of double drawing, which was made public yesterday afternoon and which was worked out to lessen the physical task, was abandoned last night. Instead of the process requiring less than an hour, the one which was being used today will probably not be completed until nine or ten o'clock tonight. It was expected that at least 10,500 numbers would have to be drawn, one at a time.

The numbers were announced for publication by the newspapers as fast as they were drawn. It was at first planned to hold the numbers in confidence until they were all drawn and give them out for publication Saturday, but this plan, too, was given up at the last moment.

Following is Provost Marshal General Crowder's explanation of the sudden abandonment of the double drawing plan which it had taken weeks to work out in detail and which was made public only a few hours before it was discarded.

"Advice received by long distance telephone this afternoon indicate that in certain areas the boards, in numbering registration cards, have kept the cards segregated by election districts and that serial numbers have been assigned

NAMES TO BE POSTED IN MAUZY CO. WINDOW

The additional names drawn for the draft after the Daily Republican went to press this afternoon will be received by wire and will be posted in the Mauzy company's window. The names have been posted there as received and a large crowd gathered to see if their friends or relatives were in the first draft.

Men Drafted From County in Order Numbers Are Drawn

The list appended gives the names of the men of military age in Rush county, in the order they were drawn at Washington today, for the army, and the number following each name is the red ink serial number. The Daily Republican received the numbers from Washington by wire and then found the names corresponding in the list of Rush county registrants prepared by the clerk of the exemption board. This list does not include all of the men registered in Rush county because the drawing was still going on late this afternoon. The list includes 87 names in Rush county out of 1,200 drawn at Washington and is as follows:

MAYOR BELL OF INDIANAPOLIS IS INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Is Charged With Conspiring to Corrupt 1914 Election and Released on $10,000 Bond

RUSH OF MEN TO SURRENDER

Twenty-Six Give Themselves up to Authorities and Others do Not Appear in Person

NEARLY ALL SAME OFFENSE

Grand Jury Returned Indictments Yesterday But Names Were Kept Secret Until Today

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., July 20.—Indicted by the federal grand jury on a charge of conspiring to corrupt the 1914 election Mayor Joseph E. Bell of Indianapolis surrendered to United States marshals today. He was released on $10,000 bond.

Previous to the appearance of the mayor several men who were indicted surrendered to the United States marshals. The rush continued for more than an hour during which time 26 men surrendered, while bonds were signed for several others, who did not appear in person.

Practically all of those indicted were named in connection with the election conspiracy.

The special grand jury, which made its report to Judge Geiger yesterday, was called because of startling disclosures and unforseen evidence during the trial of S. V. Perrot, police chief, and other Indianapolis city officials, who were convicted of conspiracy to corrupt the election of 1914 by driving negroes away from the polling places with riot clubs. In addition to Chief Perrot, five others were convicted.

Patrolman Frank M. Johnson was the only defendant acquitted.

WOMAN TRIES SUICIDE BY HANGING HERSELF

Mrs. Allie Stewart, Age 20, is Found Suspended From Rope in Attic of Father's Home

MOVED: HERE ONLY RECENTLY

Mrs. Allie Stewart, 20, attempted suicide this morning at the home of her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel B. Ford, 820 West Ninth street, by hanging. She was found hanging in the attic of the Ford home and late this afternoon remained in a serious condition, but was expected to recover.

Domestic trouble is believed to have been the cause. It is understood that she and her husband have separated and she came here a short time after her parents moved to this city from Huntsville, Ala. The Rev. Mr. Ford is a Universalist minister.

Mrs. Stewart used a drapery cord. It was the opinion that she would be partially paralyzed if she recovered.

DEMONSTRATIONS SEEN BY BIG CROWD

Assembly Room Packed With Women Who Wish to Learn New Methods of Canning

TOWNSHIPS REPRESENTED

Nearly Every Woman is "Armed" With Pad and Pencil and Takes Notes on Lectures

All doubt that the women of Rush county are not interested in the campaign to conserve the food and fruit of Rush county was removed today when the court house assembly room was packed with women from all over the county to see the demonstration and hear the explanations of newest methods of canning and drying fruit and food by Miss Nelle Rowe of Purdue university.

Practically every woman in the crowd was "armed" with a pad and pencil taking notes on the processes which have been found to be the safest, best and cheapest for canning fruit and vegetables.

Every township in the county was represented; it was said, by one or more women. The township committees all had representatives present and they will spread the doctrine of canning and drying in their communities.

The best thing about the demonstration, from the viewpoint of the Rush county women, was that no new-fangled utensils or appliances were used. Miss Rowe made the demonstrations with ordinary things available in the home of any Rush county woman.

It was stated that not a thing was used that was the least bit costly. Miss Rowe said that fruit could be dried with an electric fan, but that such a thing could not be obtained by many women, so therefore it was not practical. She explained how to dry fruit by a simple method which could be used by any woman.

The first session was held at nine-thirty o'clock. There was some trouble about getting the stove started, which caused a little delay. The afternoon session began at two-thirty and indications were that the crowd would be larger than at the morning session.

Many country women came in for both sessions, bringing their lunches so they would be sure to have a seat and not miss any of the instructions.

Every woman who registered and gave her address was promised pamphlets from Purdue explaining the methods which were used in the demonstrations today.

FIRST WHEAT IS THRESHED IN COUNTY

Eighteen Acres on Oliver Drysdale Farm in Ripley Township Gives 240 Bushels

OTHERS THRESHING TODAY

The first wheat was threshed in Rush county yesterday, more was threshed today, and by the first of the week with fair weather the farmers throughout the county will be busy with this work. The first wheat was threshed yesterday on the Oliver Drysdale farm in Ripley township. He had 18 acres which netted 240 bushels. This was a very poor yield but is no indication of the average expected for the entire county. The average was about 13 bushels to the acre.

Frank Offutt in Posey township started threshing a 100-acre field today. The wheat graded 59 pounds and outside of being a little wet was fine wheat. Henry McIlvaine in Ripley township was also threshing today. The wheat on the Offutt farm was expected to produce a big yield.

CAMP SITE HAS A MALARIA RECORD

Senator Watson Says Government Health Records Show Hattiesburg Had 2,000 Cases in 1916

MAY SPEAK ON THE SUBJECT

Corresponds with What Rushville Man Who Has Been at Hattiesburg Said About Place

Information comes from Washington today that Senator James E. Watson of this city has gathered some rather sensational facts regarding the proposed National Guard camp, at Hattiesburg, Miss., to which Company B. of this city, along with other guardsmen of Indiana and Kentucky, will be sent for training some time after August 5, the date set for mobilization. The Washington dispatch says he may embody these facts in a speech before the senate.

The dispatch also says that Senator Watson has found by examining the government's health records that there were 2,000 cases of malaria at Hattiesburg in 1916. The town has 10,000 inhabitants, and therefore, according to the senator, one-fifth of the population had malaria. Hattiesburg is far South and in a region that is largely out-over land, where the soldiers probably will have a rather extensive experience in pulling stumps as part of their daily routine.

This is in keeping with what was published in the Daily Republican a few days ago to the effect that mosquitoes were thick at Hattiesburg and that health conditions were not the best on earth. This information came from a Rushville man who has been in Hattiesburg.

The same Washington dispatch says Senator Watson is in receipt of the following telegram from A. E. Boyce, president of the Muncie (Ind.) Commercial Club.

"Muncie citizens generally are very anxious to secure the location of a central training camp for army cooks and to render every possible assistance to the army. In this particular we heartily indorse and agree to co-operate in making plans of Muncie National Institute successful in case of favorable response to proposition submitted to secretary of War, May 17."

In reply Senator Watson wired: "I shall be greatly pleased to co-operate with Senator New and the other Republicans of the Indiana delegation in Congress to have a camp for training army cooks established at Muncie. It should be remembered, however, that the administration is Democratic and practically all matters of this kind go south of the Mason and Dixon line. In this connection witness the order to train Indiana soldiers at Hattiesburg, Miss., and the location of the cantonment at Louisville, Ky., etc."

SOCIALIST LEADER AGAINST CHANCELLOR

Philip Schademann Voices Open Disapproval of Michaelis' Speech in Reichstag

SPOKE AFTER CHANCELLOR

(By United Press.)

Amsterdam, July 20.—Philip Schademann, German socialist majority leader, voiced open disapproval of Chancellor Michaelis' speech in the reichstag, according to dispatches received here today from Berlin.

The socialists, it was asserted, spoke in the reichstag immediately following Michaelis' and complained of the chancellor's vague words of internal reforms. Schademann opposed the German submarine policy, declaring it was doing more harm than good.

Cox's Shoe Store

All Men's and Women's Pumps and Oxfords, regular prices $4, $5, $6 and $7, for the next 10 days go at $2.95, $3.95, $4.95 and $5.45.

¶ This is a clean sweep of all the Low Shoes in our store, including not only lines in which the sizes are broken, but complete lines in all the newest lasts and Leathers. The most wanted models—the finest shoes in the store.

¶ These prices—$2.95 to $5.45—are less than the same shoes would cost to make today.

¶ We are overstocked on these goods because the weather upset normal purchasing. Folks do not buy low shoes till they need them. There were only 10 clear days in April and May—and scarcely more in June. This put us behind on our regular sales and we are going to sacrifice these goods without reservation—as it is the policy of this store never to carry goods from one season to another.

¶ This is your opportunity as most of the summer is still before you. We want to remind you again: This is Not an Ordinary Shoe Sale. Ordinary reductions mean little. These are standard values—shoes of known merit, of fixed prices—and this sale represents a striking and genuine economy. We stand back of every pair—They are the Best.

The same rate of Reduction goes for the LITTLE FOLKS. A few pair left of the old stock which is being offered at a ridiculously low price.

GERMANS TRYING TO WEAR OUT FRENCH

France Is Selected As the Nation Most Nearly Worn Out, Fighting Now Indicates

AN UNREMITTING OFFENSIVE

London, July 20.—Germany is desperately trying to wear out France's military strength before American troops get on the battle line. Such is the explanation given today at the war office for the unremitting Hindenburg offensive in the Champagne and Alsace fronts.

After belittling possible American aid, Germany is now beginning to realize that entire fresh armies of the United States may later turn the tide unless the lines are more firmly held than at present.

France has been selected by Germany as the nation most nearly worn down.

Front dispatches today related continuance of the heavy fighting on the French front.

ORDER FERTILIZER EARLY IS THE PLEA

State Leader of Wheat Campaign Says Supply May Not be Great Enough to Meet Demand

WHEAT ESPECIALLY NEEDS IT

This Statement Not Only Applies to Counties With Poorest Soil, But to Others Also

"On account of the unusually heavy traffic of the railroads little or no fertilizer will be shipped this summer except in full ear lots," says J. C. Beavers, state leader of wheat campaign. "For this reason, it is important that farmers order fertilizer for the wheat crop as early as possible.

"In addition to the shortage in cars, it is quite likely that the supply of fertilizer will not be sufficient to meet the demand. For these reasons, 'the early bird catches the worm.' Those who order fertilizer early will get their supply and those who fail to buy until time to sow wheat will find the supply exhausted. It is claimed by many who are in position to know that the available supply of fertilizer will be sufficient to supply only about three-fourths of the demand.

"There is no general farm crop that responds to fertilizer than wheat. In fact there are many sections of Indiana where wheat is practically a failure unless fertilized. This statement not only applies to some of the counties where the soil is poor but also to counties such as Johnson, Bartholomew, Shelby, Boone and many others of the state where our largest crops of corn are produced. By the use of fertilized a paying crop can be produced, while without it the wheat crop is unprofitable and frequently worthless.

"On soils that are producing 50 or more bushels of corn to the acre, an application of 200 pounds of acid phosphate to the acre will usually prove as profitable a fertilizer for wheat as any. When the wheat follows corn, unless an application of manure was applied for corn or a good clover sod was turned under, a fertilizer containing two per cent nitrogen may be profitably used. For the black sandy loam and muck soil, 200 to 300 pounds to the acre of a fertilizer containing 8 to 12 per cent phosphoric acid and 2 to 5 per cent potash will give good results. Potash is too high to be used with profit on the clay and loam soils but may be profitable for the black sandy and muck soils.

On thin clay and loam soils producing less than 40 bushels of corn to the acre, a fertilizer containing about 2 per cent nitrogen and 8 to 12 per cent phosphoric acid may be applied at the rate of 200 pounds to the acre used with profit. The nitrogen is most beneficial when one-half or more is from nitrate of other quickly available source. On thin lands readily available nitrogen starts the plants more quickly and thus causes the wheat to go through winter with a better stand and more vigor.

For best results fertilize the wheat crop. Farmers who buy fertilizer early are more likely to get their needs supplied.

Attention Farmers

Grading wheat under U. S. Standards, a law which all grain dealers will have to abide by.

The official grain standards of the United States for wheat were fixed, established, promulgated and published on March 31 by the Secretary of Agriculture, under the authority given in the Grain Standard Act. This act of Congress establishes wheat grades for the entire United States, from the farm to the export terminal. Effective on Indiana wheat July 1, 1917.

Number Two Red Winter wheat shall be cool and sweet, contain not more than thirteen per cent of moisture, shall test not less than fifty-nine pounds per bushel, contain not more than four per cent of damaged kernels, and not more than one per cent of foreign matter.

Number Three Red Winter wheat shall be cool and sweet, contain not more than fourteen per cent moisture, shall have a test weight of at least fifty-seven pounds, shall contain not more than seven per cent of damaged kernels, and not more than two per cent of foreign matter.

Number Four Red Winter wheat shall be cool and sweet, contain not more than fourteen per cent moisture, shall have a test weight of at least fifty-five pounds. Shall contain not more than ten per cent damaged kernels, not more than one per cent heat damage, and not more than four per cent foreign matter.

Number Five Red Winter wheat may be musty or sour, contain not more than fifteen per cent of moisture, test not less than 53 pounds per bushel. May contain not more than fifteen per cent damaged kernels, not more than three per cent heat damage and not more than six per cent foreign material.

Dockage includes sand, dirt, weed seeds, weed stems, chaff, straw, grain other than wheat, and any other foreign material which can be removed readily from the wheat by the use of appropriate sieves, cleaning devices, or other practical means suited to separate the foreign material present; also undeveloped, shriveled and small pieces of wheat kernels necessarily removed in properly separating the foreign material. The quantity of dockage shall be calculated in terms of percentage based on the total weight of the grain including the dockage. The percentage of dockage so calculated shall be stated in terms of whole per centum and half per centum. A fraction of a per centum when equal to or greater than a half, shall be treated as a half, and when less than a half shall be disregarded. The percentage of dockage so determined and stated shall be added to the grade designation.

For a full copy of the Official Standards write to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., or to your Congressman.

It will be seen that the requirements of grading are a trifle more strict. Dirty wheat, or wheat that is even slightly damp, cannot grade either number two or three in any market. It rests primarily with the farmer to see that the grain is threshed dry, and is properly cleaned. Dockage rules for dirty wheat are very explicit.

The only time to get rye out of wheat thoroughly is while the grain is standing. More than one per cent of rye prevents any wheat grading number two. One-tenth of one per cent makes it unfit for seed. Cocks is still worse and must be removed, if at all, before harvest.

Stanley Sells the Cars

How

does it come then that Knecht & Gartin have sold 223 cars this season?

Everybody Likes the Ford

Even the above named competitors have recently advertised for new and second-hand Fords all during this season, but you never did see them advertise for any of their own makes, for if they had got them they would still have them on their hands—the same as a lemon.

A Ford car is the same as a $20.00 gold piece — always good.

$45.00 a Day to Operate a Dodge

This was the experience of one man the other day — and

Two Days was Enough

and he came here and traded it for a Ford, taking $90 less money than the Dodge cost him.

Some one outside of Rush county will find a bargain in this Dodge, as we do not care to sell this kind of a car to any of our prospective customers in our territory. Even the Stanley Auto Company have been attempting to secure the agency for the Buick (dropping the Maxwell, Dodge and Studebaker) for the season of 1918. This same firm has sold 83 Buicks in Henry county this season.

Farming Now and Then

For several years prior to the war, students of economics in America had been calling attention to the gradual and rapid approach of the lines of food production and consumption. The seeming certainty that within a short time the United States would cease to be an exporter of foodstuffs, gave rise to agitation for a "back-to-the-farm" movement. Despite the demonstration of relatively decreased agricultural production, and notwithstanding the plea for an exodus of city residents, there was slight increase in the number of persons engaged in farming or in the number of acres utilized in production.

Those who seek for reasons have not far to search. No one was in doubt as to the facts. Boys were leaving the farms and going to the cities. Almost every line of industry except farming was developing faster than the population was increasing. There could be no question about the impending scarcity of food, even in time of peace. Yet there was no rush to the agricultural regions. Why?

First and most important may be cited the simple fact that, in general, men learned or observed that farming did not pay. Farmers made a living, it is true. Some of them made considerably more than a living, but, taken as whole, farmers received less than average wages for the labor of themselves and families? Many, many of them left the farms because they could make more elsewhere.

In return for an income far below average wages of common labor, the farmer and his family worked twelve to fourteen hours a day, wore old clothes, deprived themselves of luxuries, skimped on what most of us deem necessities, went to town as seldom as possible on account of bad roads, and gave up the advantages of good schools and social intercourse.

There are many reasons why farming did not pay. To begin with the farmer takes all the chances of the elements—the frost, hail, tornado, flood and drought. With his crop successfully garnered, he often takes chances with a dishonest commission man. Even when he got a square deal from the buyer of farm produce, the middle-men's profits and expenses were so great that the net price left the producer a very slight margin of profit. The middle-man always gets his toll from the crop whether the farmer has any thing coming or not. In the grading or classification of the produce, with regard to quality, the farmer always gets the worst of it. If he holds for a higher price, storage charges eat up the possible increase. If he joins a co-operative selling agency, the commission men manage to drive it out of business. He pays the highest rate of interest on his borrowings, never escapes any of his taxes, and helps pay, through higher prices, the bad debts of irresponsible city residents.

That situation was temporarily changed by the war. Farmers, as a rule, are now making good profits, though there are exceptions. But in due time the war will be over, the extraordinary food shortage will end, and farming will be on a normal basis. What then? Shall we have already solved the problem of assuring the farmer a reasonable return for his expenditure of money and labor? If not, then the "back-to-the-farm" cry will again be heard with no response from fertile but not well cultivated hills.

Economy in Foods

Mr. Hoover's suggestion of a "wheatless day," each week, accompanied by a "meatless day," and joined to the habit of buying less and consuming it all will do more for food conservation and to reduce the high cost of living than all the laws which a Congress can pass under even the most pressing of executive demand. It will also be far less expensive to put into operation, for it will require no army of special agents and inspectors and statisticians and the like. All it needs is the voluntary adherence of housewives and cooks to the scheme; and the women's organizations which exist in every State can supply all the machinery without padding a government payroll.

With the government need of increased production and the practice of sane economy on every hand, we should not for a moment lose sight of the fact that the human brain and body requires a certain degree of periodical relaxation. We must work—work hard and for long hours—in order that we may each perform the duties allotted to us. But we must have our hours of relaxation, or our overburdened frames will suffer and our energies will deteriorate.

Why Are We Fighting

The answer to this question is contained in the government's red, white and blue book, just issued. The text of the book, or paper, has been published in all of the daily papers, and constitutes an unanswerable argument in favor of war to the hilt. Read it—study it—analyze it—and when you have digested its contents you will be thoroughly convinced of the justice and the absolute necessity of the war the United States is waging against Germany.

In time, for sooth, we will cease to say, "uneasy lies the head that wears a crown." There will be no crowns to wear.

Strange, indeed, but true. Since the trenches have become the center of the stage we seldom hear hell or Mexico mentioned.

The late arrival of summer inclines one to the suspicion that speculators have cornered the sun.

Some day, somewhere, some fellow will invent a pipe that will do its own puffing.

And still, "Cree!" and "squeal!" have a rhyming sound.

MAKE APPEAL TO COAL PRODUCERS

State Council of Defense Urges That no Influences be Allowed to Curtail Production

HOOVER MOVEMENT INDORSED

Each Housewife in State Will be Asked to Sign Food Conservation Pledge August 15

Indianapolis, July 20.—An appeal signed by a special committee, consisting of Charles W. Fairbanks, Charles Fox and Evans Woolen was addressed "to the producers of coal" by the State Council of Defense today, urging that no influences be permitted to curtail the production of coal, as essential to the successful prosecution of the war as shells and foodstuffs.

The Council indorsed the Hoover nation-wide campaign under the direction of Dr. Harry E. Barnard, who has set August 15th as the day when every housewife in the state will be asked to sign a food conservation pledge.

Mrs. Carl Fisher and a corps of associates volunteered to direct practical demonstrations of food preservation methods, in an effort to prevent the waste and loss of thousands of tons of perishable foodstuffs in the state, which offer was accepted by the Council.

The offer of the Indiana Ice Dealers association to store foodstuffs in place of manufactured ice during the winter was referred to a committee.

An effort will be made to secure more adequate protection to important railroad bridges, not now policed by federal troops.

Mrs. Samuel Toole of Indianapolis were among the out-of-town guests.

Seven members of the S. S. C. Club met with Miss Alice Peters yesterday afternoon at her home northwest of this city, for a few enjoyable hours over fancywork. During the afternoon, dainty refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Laverne Bishop.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Alice Hinchman, wife of James Hinchman in Denver. Mrs. Hinchman was a native of Union township and was widely known there. She was a niece of Robert Hinchman and Mrs. George W. Young. Her death was caused by an attack of acute indigestion.

to the whole group for a board while the cards were thus segregated. If the drawing is conducted as originally planned, in groups of 1,000, the result will be that considerable proportions of certain election districts will be brought for examination together.

"This will result in drafting persons from one locality within the jurisdiction of a board before any person is drawn from another locality within the same jurisdiction."

"For this reason it has been decided to abandon the drawing by thousand to draw 10,500 numbers, which is in excess of the highest number of cards under jurisdiction of any board. The only change in the plan will be that there will be one drawing instead of two."

"The advantage will be greater simplicity. The disadvantage will be that the drawing will require ten hours to complete."

This is the third time the federal grand jury has probed the 1914 election and registration and, in addition, it was investigated by the county grand jury. The county investigation resulted in the indictment of Mayor Joseph E. Bell, and more than 100 others. All of them, however, were acquitted by a jury after deliberating only a short time.

The first investigation of the federal authorities was made more than a year ago. No indictments were returned at that time. Some time later, suit was filed by Frank Campbell, a negro, asking $25,000 damages from Chief of Police Perrot and Sergeant Sanders for alleged intimidation. The defendants were acquitted by a jury. The evidence during the trial, however, apparently convinced Judge Albert B. Anderson, who presided, that a conspiracy existed and he ordered the grand jury into another session to delve more deeply into the fraud charges.

This investigation resulted in the indictment of the men who were convicted recently and who will be sentenced July 30, by Special Judge Geiger. This date was set following a conference between defense and government attorneys and Judge Geiger on July 10.

During the trial several persons were named by government attorneys as being connected with the alleged poll frauds, who were not indicted in earlier actions, namely Mayor Joseph E. Bell. He was charged by Frank C. Dailey, special assistant attorney general for prosecution of poll frauds, with being the "custodian" of an "out-law fund," which was raised to assist him in the election. The fund, according to Dailey's statement and according to government witnesses, was raised from various saloon keepers. Several witnesses were called by government attorneys to uphold Dailey's statement that saloon keepers were forced to contribute to the "slush fund," regardless of their political beliefs. Instances were cited when policemen, some of whom already were under indictment, drove negroes out of saloons where the owners had failed to contribute to the "slush fund."

MUST TAKE CARE OF PERISHABLES

Secretary Houston Says It Is of Importance to Get Them on the Markets

CONFERENCE ON THE SUBJECT

He Also Urges That All Surpluses Be Preserved Through Every Approved Means

Washington, D. C., July 20.—"It is of the first importance that every assistance shall be given to growers of perishables in the marketing of them, and also that surpluses shall be preserved through every approved means," said Secretary Houston of the Department of Agriculture at the opening of a conference which he had called.

Further aid in caring for surplus fruits and vegetables, especially the products of home orchards and gardens, is the object of this conference called by the Secretary of Agriculture and which will continue for a couple of days or as long as may be necessary. Secretary Houston has caused a telegraphic survey to be made showing just where there are more fruits and vegetables of home growth than can be conserved in the usual way and the conference will endeavor to provide means of relief in these sections.

In order that there may be full information as to the supply of containers and driers, and in order that the trade requirements and conditions may be thoroughly understood the Secretary invited the following representatives of trade interests and they are in attendance on the conference:—Committee on Fruit and Garden Products: W. M. Wakes, Indianapolis, Indiana, (Representing Van Camp Packing Co.); H. W. Phelps, New-York City, (Vice-President, American Canning Co.); G. Thomas, Washington, D. C., (B. F. Sturtevant Co.); F. E. Gorrell, Washington D. C., (Secretary, National Canners Association); J. O. Ross, Boston, Mass., (B. F. Sturtevant Co.); F. C. Ball, Muncie, Indiana, (Pres-

Ball Glass Mfg. Co.). In addition to A. D. Lasker of Lord & Thomas, Chicago, who is serving as chairman of the committee and who will remain in Washington for some weeks to direct this particular activity, others participating in the conference are: C. J. Brand, Chief Bureau of Markets; Dr. C. L. Alsberg, Chief of Chemistry; Clarence Ousley, Assistant to the Secretary; and John Callon O'Laughlin, Washington, D. C. (Newspaper correspondent.)

GOVERNMENT WINS OVER MALCONTENTS

Quelling of Revolt Which Caused Street Fighting in Petrograd Apparently Accomplished

ARRESTS BY THE WHOLESALE

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD (U. P. Staff Correspondent.) Petrograd, July 20.—The government wins.

Quelling of the revolt which for three days caused dissension and fighting on the streets for the first time since the revolution had apparently been accomplished last night.

Arrests by the wholesale of mutineers and malcontents responsible for the rioting continue. The city is rapidly approaching normal. It was quiet last night with no trouble reported.

LOTTERY HOLDS RUSH COUNTY IN ITS GRIP

Throughout the day the young men watched the numbers closely to find in what order they are to appear. The drawing was not exactly clear to many people. Under the method by which it was conducted every serial number in the country was drawn. The thing watched the closest was the order of the drawing. For instance if Rush county's quota is 200, the first 200 names drawn are to appear first before the board. Because of this method it was necessary to draw the entire list of numbers.

CLOVER PAYS WELL

Boonville, July 20.—Two thousand, three hundred dollars worth of crimson leaf clover off 18 acres of land—that's the harvesting record established by George Vanada, Warlick County farmer, this season. Planting of the crops was under the direction of O. B. Burrell, former county farm agent.

VACATION AS USUAL IS SLOGAN

State Board of Health Declares War Times Make Them All More Necessary

SHOULD REGARD HEALTH LAWS

Best Form Is to Lay Aside All Worries and Cares, It is Pointed Out

Indianapolis, Ind., July 20.—"War times make vacations all the more necessary, so take a vacation," is the advice of the state board of health, in a statement today.

The board calls attention to the fact—the more strenuous the thought and activities of the times, the more needful is a complete relaxation of both mental and physical, and that a period of recreation or rest is a duty that ones owes to himself, family and business and should be taken as often as he can afford it, but at least once a year.

As to whether one can afford a vacation or not, or thinks that he can, the Board says: "Don't think you can't afford a vacation when probably the truth of the matter is you can't afford not to take some time off to refresh your mind and see yourself from another point of view. It is too often the case when people get in ruts that they think the business can't run without them, that they are indispensable to its maintenance, etc. Vacations are good to help a fellow get the true perspective of himself, to see what he really is and how he stands in relation to other people and things. Then, too, it is real economy, for it makes health. And yet that's not the best part of the real purpose of a vacation.

"The best vacation," says the Board, "is when all worries and cares are left behind and self is given over to a period of recreation. A change is always beneficial. Pleasant surroundings and good food are stimulating, but the spending of money is not absolutely essential. To be most benefited from a vacation one does not have to be surfeited with pleasure or burdened with attention and amusements. One should however, cultivate a vacation attitude—to let them down and forget and to take care of self, but not to become selfish.

"But a vacation that disregards all health laws will be a failure. One cannot outrange nature and escape her penalties. An overcrowded stomach will balk sooner or later. Continued loss of sleep will have its price. Filth whether drunk in water or milk or gotten from flies or dirty fingers will work its usual dire results. Health laws cannot be too closely followed for a successful vacation."

Be sure to take the children along. They are worth while and deserve vacations.
